

VMD202

VEHICLE MOTION DETECTOR

The VMD202 vehicle motion detector senses moving ferrous metal within its magnetic field. It has a detection range up to 12 feet at a minimum speed of 5 mph. An optional sensitivity remote finely tunes the VMD202 to fit any installation requirement and then easily detaches to prevent unwanted changes or tampering. The settings are stored in a non-volatile memory, saving them in case of power failure. The VMD202 accepts a wide range of power inputs from 12-39 VDC or 12-27 VAC and features a low current consumption (70 uA standby / 25 mA activated) making it ideal for solar applications.
